 and the floods rise and the storm

OLD AND NEW

In 2020 we saw a lot of new things. Some were great, like having opportunities to connect with people we haven't connected with in years; some were not so great, like missing the personal interaction we all crave. I have seen wonderfully creative people doing ministry in new ways and, in contrast, some very strange people. I mean seriously, how many rolls of toilet paper do you need? Throughout all the craziness of last year, one constant remained—the loving presence of Jesus Christ.

As everyone did last year, the United Methodist Foundation of Indiana (UMFI) and the IN Loan & Savings Ministry (LSM) had to learn to do ministry in new ways, yet many things remained unchanged. In this annual report you will hear about some of those new things as well as some old familiar stories.

One significant change for UMFI and LSM was made in our Board of Directors. The boards of the two ministries merged July 1 to facilitate a stronger alignment of ministry and a more efficient leadership structure. While this is a new structure, for most it will appear there was no change.

I hope you enjoy the many other stories of new and old ministries in this annual report.

LENDING A HELPING HAND DURING THE PANDEMIC

Although most of the world was still in lockdown, or at the very least, limiting capacity at indoor dining and church services, Wheeler Mission in downtown Indianapolis was not. It continued to provide homeless men with valuable resources they needed now more than ever. Wheeler Mission counts on hundreds of volunteers to help feed and shelter homeless men, women and families in the community. Not many people were up to serving the homeless during this dangerous and contagious period of time. Well, not true for the staff at the United Methodist Foundation of Indiana and IN Loan and Savings Ministry. Employees gowned and gloved-up while serving lunch to more than 100 men. The men going through the line were so grateful for a hot meal and a warm greeting from a staff member. What a blessing it was to serve during a difficult time.

UMFI and LSM staff prepare to serve at Wheeler Mission in downtown Indianapolis.

Gowned, gloved and ready for service.

Zoom meetings have become a recurring activity for many of us, and the retirees of the Indiana Conference were part of the trend.

UMFI usually hosts a fall lunch for retirees, which is well attended by those living in Indiana. It is a wonderful opportunity to gather and share what is new in their lives and hear from friends and colleagues. Often, the Foundation offers a short educational session, ranging from an engaging talk by Charlie Rownd on safety and security, to slightly more mundane things like insurance or required minimum distributions.

This year we Zoomed with the Bishop! Indiana retirees from across the United States were able to join together to catch up on each other's lives, share their thoughts, and ask questions of Bishop Trimble.

While we missed seeing everyone in person, God opened an opportunity to share with many we haven't seen in far too long. We thank God for the blessings of our UM retired community.

Psalm 62:2

Yes, He alone is my rock, my rescuer, defense and fortress. Why then should I be tense with fear when troubles come?

DONORS

UMFI manages 115 endowments and trusts on behalf of our donors, assuring the purpose of their funds are followed. It is our donors that give us the opportunity to support local congregations through grants. Our donors trust us to follow their instructions to the letter and we thank them for that trust. While we cannot list everyone who has donated in the past, we can share those who made donations in 2020 as gifts to UMFI or gifts to create endowments or trusts with UMFI.

TINY CHURCH WITH GOD-SIZED MINISTRY

Clayton-Harris Memorial UMC is about as far from any place as you can find—at least in Indiana. Located near Tobinsport on the Ohio River, in Perry County, they are a congregation of less than 10 folks worshipping each Sunday. They began a food pantry ministry in nearby Cannelton, IN in 2005, at its sister UMC church. Then, in 2008, they moved into a building owned by The Oaks Senior Citizens Center. For many years the food pantry was open two days per month and served upwards of 75 families.

Late in 2019, they were told that the building they were using was going to be for sale and they would have to find a new home for their ministry. As they could not find a suitable place for their pantry, they considered closing altogether.

One day, a member of the pantry team, Pat Jones, was talking with a man who told her that, while the building was worth $90,000 to $100,000, there wasn't much interest in the small town of Cannelton. If someone offered $20,000 he thought the owners might take it. As she was driving home, she thought to herself, "We have just over $20,000 in our church's savings account." After a meeting at the church, it was quickly decided to use the money to buy the building.

Clayton-Harris Memorial applied for a grant with the United Methodist Foundation, and UMFI was thrilled to partner with them in this amazing ministry. Praise God, the Cannelton Food Pantry multiplied its ministry just in time for a COVID-19 crisis. By December of 2020, volunteers were working 2-3 days per week. In addition, Cannelton Food Pantry:

- Served 183 families on average per month.
- Had 1,843 total visitors.
- Received 43,000+ pounds of food from Tri-State Food Bank.
- Purchased 13,000 pounds of food.
- Donors gave another 12,000 pounds of food.
- Hosted the Farmers to Families food box distribution, including 160,000 pounds of dairy, produce, and meat.
- Delivered 300 food boxes to three low-income developments in Cannelton.
- Distributed over 228,000 pounds of food in Cannelton and the surrounding community.

Currently the food pantry is considering whether to be open more days during the week. The UMFI grant of $5,000 was used to purchase one commercial refrigerator and two desperately needed commercial freezers.

They say, "good things come in small packages." In this case, we could say "great" things come in small packages. Thanks, Clayton-Harris Memorial church. You are a vital congregation and an inspiration to us all. It is our joy partnering with you to keep families fed in Perry county.

Development officer, Glenn Howell, presents a grant check to Cannelton Food Pantry.

GRANTS

UMFI awarded $726,260 in grants and scholarships in 2020. Seventy six churches and agencies received grants, 18 seminary students received scholarships, 5 active clergy received new tires to allow them to visit their members in safety, 4 new clergy received assistance with seminary debt, and 3 retired clergy received financial support for emergency situations. While this just seems like a lot of numbers, it in fact reflects lives changed through the generosity of our donors. Many recipients were identified by the donors who created the endowments. The following are a list of all of the congregations or agencies receiving grants in 2020.

WHERE THE RUBBER MEETS THE ROAD

Pastors do a lot of driving. Rev. Ray (Bud) Probasco understood that better than many. Responding to a tragic accident that was caused in part by old tires, Pastor Probasco wanted to make sure that no pastors in the future would be unsafe driving on old, bald tires. Thus, in 2016 he started the tire fund. Many pastors in need have received new tires providing them with many more safe hours on the road as they traveled to visit their sick and shut-in. In 2020, five pastors from various districts received help from this fund. Pastor Max Milton at Argos UMC was one such pastor and he shared:

"In 2020 I received funds to purchase new tires for my Nissan Titan truck. Both of my children started college this past year and money was tight. These funds helped me travel to members of my church to put prayer cards in their mailbox and to pray for them while they stood behind a window or their door. The members of Argos UMC and myself are very thankful."

THANK YOU

“Receiving the Hartman-Van Fleit debt reduction grant meant so much to me, because it paid off one of my student loans. Going into ordained ministry, it is such a relief to have that bit of debt off of my back, it was an absolute relief to my family and I.”

Blessings,
Rev. Grant Merrell

“First, let me say thank you for helping us to provide a church service to our community, when we were forced to close our doors during the COVID pandemic. Five of us would gather at the church every Sunday to broadcast live our services. Live broadcasting has eliminated any excuse for not having at least a service online. COVID changed the rules.”

Frank W. Russell,
Kniman UMC Treasurer\Technology Lead

A grant provided UMC Crawfordsville an opportunity to offer a certified child care program

“This professional education is an invaluable asset to the quality of education and care we provide. A myriad of safety and facility upgrades and renovations have improved and expanded the physical space for Rainbows & Rhymes. Thanks to the financial support of the Indiana UM Foundation coupled with the tireless work of our Children’s Ministry Team, the church Trustees, and our maintenance supervisor, we can now accommodate 56 children.”

2 Samuel 22:47

The Lord lives. Blessed be my rock. Praise to Him — the rock of my salvation.

“The grant from the UMFI helped pay for the replacement of one of the geothermal units in our building which is used to provide heat and cooling for food pantry operations and storage as well as the maintenance of the food pantry’s commercial-grade refrigerators and freezers. Thank you again for selecting us for this grant. Cooling our storage rooms is even more important than keeping them heated when it comes to maintaining all the refrigerators and freezers we use for food storage. We would have a lot of unhappy people if we could only provide them with shelf-stable foods.”

“Receiving scholarship funds from the UMFI in 2020 during the COVID-19 pandemic was an incredible blessing for me and my family. It meant I could continue with my seminary studies and not worry about how we were going to pay for it. My husband had an unexpected medical emergency early in 2020 and we had medical bills that we had to pay throughout the remainder of the year. Knowing my education was taken care of eased our minds and meant I could graduate as planned in May 2021 without incurring student loans.”

MT. AUBURN UNITED METHODIST CHURCH — CHALLENGES AND CELEBRATIONS

The COVID-19 pandemic brought so many challenges that it seemed the whole country, and even the world, was unprepared. Like many other churches, when the pandemic hit, the leaders at Mt. Auburn United Methodist Church knew its ministries needed to continue. There were a lot of challenges, to be sure. Much of its congregational life temporarily changed in order to navigate the pandemic, but the heart of its mission didn't change. It is still serving the people of its community.

Like most other churches, it suspended live services several months in 2020. During this time, it continued having on-line services and many of its ministries continued on Zoom with hybrid formats. It also had a loan they had been working diligently to pay off and did not want to break the momentum.

In 2007 the church leadership began construction of a 25,000 square foot addition including a family life center. This in itself was a big project. From the beginning the church planned to set aside a tithe of 10% of the funds to build a church in Uganda. This would be the first fruits from its capital campaign. In March 2009, the Trinity United Methodist Church in Uganda was dedicated. The Mt. Auburn congregation still supports the missionaries and this church. The O'Dell Family Life Center at Mt. Auburn was finished in October 2009 and has been well used by this community. Although it had a very successful capital campaign, there was still debt remaining from this project.

Matthew 7:24

All who listen to my instructions and follow them are wise, like a man who builds his house on solid rock.

Results of the addition to Mt. Auburn United Methodist Church.

One of its many faithful families came forward a few months ago with an offer to give two-thirds of the funds needed to pay off the debt, with a challenge to the congregation to give the remaining third. The challenge was met, and the church was able to pay off the loan in only two months! The church is preparing to celebrate paying off this debt early, even during a pandemic. What a testimony this church made in its faith that God will provide!

Jesus looked at them and said, "With man this is impossible, but with God all things are possible."

Matthew 19:26

DeVon Yoho
1942-2020

DeVon Yoho was a founding member of the Board of Directors of the United Methodist Foundation of Indiana (UMFI). Originally starting his service with the former North Indiana United Methodist Foundation board in 2007, he served until its merger in 2011 and continued serving on the UMFI Board the maximum 9 years. He also served on the Board of Directors of the IN U.M. Loan & Savings Ministry (LSM) and continued to serve on the Finance Committee of UMFI as a non-board member until his passing on November 25, 2020.

DeVon was born May 12, 1942, to Wallace and Evelyn Yoho. He was married to Mary Etta Yoho for 52 years. They lived in Muncie from 1978 to 2017, raising their two children, and then moved to Westfield, to be closer to their children and grandchildren after DeVon's retirement from Ball State.

Dr. Yoho was an associate professor of Economics and Director of the Center for Economic Education at Ball State University for 34 years, retiring in 2012. He brought an understanding of the economics of the investment world, as well as non-profit businesses that both informed and directed the UMFI and LSM ministries.

DeVon had a passion for education and helped to form the educational outreach of the UMFI ministry. He also was passionate about congregational life. He served for many years on the Board of the IN U.M. Loan & Savings Ministry helping to find the best possible financing for many congregations seeking funding for their congregational projects. He could always be counted on to provide a unique perspective of a situation and was tireless in pushing both ministries to be the best they could. He actively participated in board meetings, passionately expressing his opinions, both on the matters of business and the necessity for cookies.

DeVon is survived by his wife of 52 years, Mary Etta; children, Lance L. (wife, Connie) Yoho and Rachel A. (husband, Jeff) Blacker; grandchildren, Brandon (wife, Madison) Yoho and Craig Yoho, Amy Blacker and David Blacker; brother, Wallace (wife, Pat) Yoho; sister, Susan Bergo; brother-in-law, Allen Meyer; nieces, nephews, and cousins. He was preceded in death by his parents; brother, David Yoho; brother-in-law, Dennis Bergo; brother-in-law, Norman Meyer; sister-in-law, Julie Meyer; nephew, Jonathan Bergo. To all of those who knew and loved DeVon, we share your love and loss and extend our sincerest sympathy. DeVon was truly a great man and left many wonderful legacies, his impact on UMFI and LSM is but one of many.

UMFI manages $62 million in investments on behalf of 202 congregations and ministries in our Conference. This is in addition to the $28 million of endowments, trusts and other funds UMFI manages on behalf of our donors.

The Investment Service Fund is a pool of market-based assets UMFI manages on behalf of local congregations. These funds represent endowments and other long term funds held by local churches. We provide access to funds that are screened to be in compliance with the Social Principles of the United Methodist Church. 2020 was a great year for stock returns and we are very proud to offer these socially screened funds that significantly outperformed their benchmarks. Through these funds, local congregations and agencies in Indiana earned more than $16.6 million to be used in their local communities. Below is a summary of the returns for UMFI ISF funds.

CHANGE IS NOT SO DIFFERENT

In July 2020, the Loan & Savings Ministry (LSM) restructured from a separately incorporated organization to a limited liability corporation with the United Methodist Foundation (UMFI) as the sole member. Translated, this means while LSM still functions as a separate ministry, we now have one board of directors that manages both ministries. The staff will continue as they have in the past, so from the outside it will appear there is no difference, except with the financial statements. With the restructuring and one board, we are required to provide consolidated financial statements. Separate statements are available in the full audited financial statements.

With the restructuring, the financial statements will be unique this year. Since the Loan & Savings Ministry was “acquired” by the Foundation on July 1, the first half of 2020 LSM operations are reflected in the $1,704,932 equity transfer from LSM. The interest income from mortgage loans and the interest expense from LSM deposits only represents the last 6 months of the year.

Following are the new consolidated financial statements for UMFI and LSM for 2020. These statements are an abbreviated version of the full statements which include notes that provide significant additional information. If you would like to see the full audited financial statements, please contact us.

Luke 6:47-48
As for everyone who comes to me and hears my words and puts them into practice, I will show you what they are like. They are like a man building a house, who dug down deep and laid the foundation on rock. When a flood came, the torrent struck that house but could not shake it, because it was well built.
